The announcement coincides with the launch of Verity, a new suite of embedded, auditable AI. Built upon the trusted foundation of BlackLine's Studio360 platform, the ISO 42001 certification validates the robust governance framework and "Control Layer for AI" that BlackLine has built into its platform, ensuring its AI is developed and managed with the highest standards of ethics, transparency, and accountability.

"Talk about trusted AI is easy; proving it is what matters. This ISO 42001 certification is that proof," said Owen Ryan, co-CEO and Chairman of the Board at BlackLine. "It's the independent validation of the principles we've built into our Studio360 platform and our new Verity AI. We are providing our customers with a verifiable foundation of governance and trust, so they can lead the AI revolution in finance with complete confidence."

This latest achievement builds upon BlackLine's world-class security infrastructure, which is consistently validated against a suite of internationally recognized standards, including:

- ISO/IEC 27001 (Information Security Management)
- ISO/IEC 27017 (Cloud Security)
- ISO/IEC 27018 (Cloud Privacy)
- ISO/IEC 27701 (Privacy Information Management)
- SOC 1 and SOC 2 Type 2 reports

"With Verity, BlackLine is going beyond automation to deliver future-ready financial operations for the Office of the CFO, and the ISO 42001 certification is the bedrock of its governance," said Jill Knesek, CISO at BlackLine. "It validates our 'Control Layer for AI,' ensuring that our agentic experiences and intelligent insights are not just powerful, but also transparent, auditable, and built on an uncompromising foundation of trust. Our customers can be confident that as we lead the AI revolution in finance, we are doing so responsibly and securely."

BlackLine's commitment to trust is further strengthened by its strategic partnerships with the world's leading auditing and advisory firms. These alliances ensure that BlackLine's solutions are aligned with global accounting standards and that customers are supported by a network of trusted transformation advisors.

With the ISO 42001 certification serving as the cornerstone of its responsible AI development, BlackLine solidifies its position as the most trusted platform for finance and accounting automation. By unifying and connecting to data at the source, BlackLine secures data across financial operations from end-to-end, empowering customers to command their financial operations with strategic insight and innovate with confidence.
