BeyondTheBlack, formerly InTheBlack, is BlackLine's annual user conference that for the past 12 years has brought together a global community focused on innovation in Finance & Accounting. The new name encapsulates the new reality: accountants and other financial professionals are now being called on to do more than just close the books and verify that the numbers are right. What was previously their sole focus is now just one part of the value they bring. F&A leaders are embracing modern accounting by unifying systems, data and processes to deliver accurate results faster; automating routine work to focus on strategic business initiatives; and executing continuously to support the business in real time. Instead of just making sure organizations are 'BeyondTheBlack', it's time for accountants to go 'BeyondTheBlack'.

Unless otherwise noted, the above features and updates are currently available. BeyondTheBlack 2020 is taking place virtually Tuesday to Thursday, Nov. 17th to 19th, featuring more than 100 speakers spanning approximately 60 sessions. For information or to register for the complimentary virtual event, go here.
